

Spreading Coal Strike Hits Steel Production

Shortage May Close 300 Plants

Pittsburgh, Jan. 17—(AP)—The spreading strike of more than 81,000 soft coal miners bit into the nation's steel production today amid signs the government soon may seek a court order against John L. Lewis.

Coal shortages, which already have curtailed railroad service, threatened to close 300 big Pittsburgh area industrial plants by cutting off electrical power.

General Counsel Robert Denham of the National Labor Relations Board indicated he may ask tomorrow or Thursday for a court order against the three-day week which Lewis fixed for miners last July 1.

Coal operators have filed charges of unfair labor practices against Lewis. They say the short work week is the United Mine Workers' president's way of controlling production.

Steel production at the nearby Midland, Pa., plant of crucible steel company of America was reduced 25 per cent. A thousand of the firm's 13,000 workers were laid off.

A company spokesman blamed the "no contract no work" coal strike. He predicted larger layoffs within days unless coal production improves.

The United States Steel corporation plans to shut down four electric furnaces at Duquesne, Pa., if electric power is cut off.

Republic Steel corp. may have to reduce blast furnace operations Monday. The Wheeling Steel corporation said it will have to close in two weeks unless it gets more coal.

Prepare For Electrical Shutdown
Duquesne Light company, serving the greater Pittsburgh industrial area, served notice on large industrial customers to prepare for complete electrical power shutdowns Friday.

With its mines closed by strikes, Duquesne light said power supplies will be shut off first to industries rationing of coal becomes necessary. Before the strike, the nation's miners had been working only a three-day week on orders of John L. Lewis. As a result, U.S. coal stockpiles are down to the danger point.

The Pittsburgh retail coal merchants association telegraphed President Truman an appeal "to protect the consumers of coal." The association said "the emergency in coal supply has become a crisis."

But at almost the same time President Truman rejected an appeal by Senator Brewster (R-Me.) to invoke the Taft-Hartley act to end the strike in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Alabama, Ohio, Kentucky and Virginia.

Mayor Says Cairo Safe From Flood If No Rain Comes

Cairo, Ill., Jan. 17—(AP)—Mayor Egbert Smith insisted today there was no flood danger unless additional heavy rainfall pushes the Ohio river much higher.

Since the city is below the top of a 60-foot sea wall that holds the water back, people at second story windows could look out and see the river almost at eye level.

The weather bureau predicts the Ohio will reach its crest Thursday at 55.5 feet—little more than four feet below the top of the sea wall that protects the business district.

The Ohio and Mississippi rivers come together at Cairo. In time of flood, to relieve pressure here and upstream, the army engineers have a plan that calls for deliberate flooding of 111 square miles of the Missouri boot heel. It would be done by blasting a gap in the levee a short distance below Cairo.

The decision whether to blast depended on the rise of the water, but hundreds of families in the floodway were moving out today, at the urgent request of the engineers. The Red Cross was helping those who needed help.

UNEMPLOYMENT AREAS RISE IN NUMBER

Washington, Jan. 17—(AP)—The government reported today the number of areas having seven percent or more of their working force unemployed rose to 105 in December. That compared with 99 in November.

Robert C. Goodwin, director of the bureau of employment security, said a new survey shows 33 areas have 12 percent or more of their workers unemployed. This was an increase from the 22 such areas in November. These areas are classified as "E" areas by the government—because of their high percentage of labor surplus.

Included on the bureau's "E" list for December were Clinton, Ind.; Muskegon, Mich.; Mt. Vernon, Ill.; Haute and Clinton, Ind.

Illinois News Briefs

Russellville, Ill., Jan. 17—(AP)—The Wabash river overflowed a wide stretch of levee five miles south of its Lawrence county village today. Sheriff's Deputy Robert Garrett said the overflow threatened to wash out a section of the earthen dikes. He said he shortly before noon.

Paris, Ill., Jan. 17—(AP)—A heavy rig carrying an oil derrick skidded in a muddy field today and crushed a worker to death between the derrick crown block and a tractor.

The dead man was L. C. Reagan, 42, of Centralia, who was employed by the Holden Construction company of Centralia.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 17—(AP)—State Rep. David L. Swanson (R-Chicago) yesterday filed nominating petitions in a bid to retain his assembly seat from the 11th senatorial district in Chicago.

Quincy, Ill., Jan. 17—(AP)—The Quincy trades and labor assembly asked the city council last night to revoke the franchise of the Quincy city lines. The council took no action.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 17—(AP)—Burglars got $3,000 in cash and checks from the Chicago Motor Club's branch office here yesterday, but they had to hoist a 500-pound safe through a window to get it.

Alton, Ill., Jan. 17—(AP)—About 300 Alton Negroes attended a mass meeting here last night and decided to press demands for an end to segregation in public schools.

Belleville, Ill., Jan. 17—(AP)—Nicholas Rockemann, 76, a watchman at the Enterprise Foundry Co., was found dead last night in the pit of an elevator shaft.

Denver, Jan. 17—(AP)—Wes Woodlawn Farms of Creston, Ill., yesterday took the reserve grand champion Aberdeen Angus bull title at the National Western Stock show. The Illinois entry won with Homeplace Bell Boy 19th.

Peoria Informs Lucas That City Very Low On Coal

Washington, Jan. 17—(AP)—A Peoria, Ill., delegation today informed Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) and Rep. Velde (R-Ill.) that their community is critically short of coal.

The delegation said some action be taken to restore a steady flow of the fuel to the 185,000 persons in the Peoria area.

Ridley Orton, Mrs. F. H. Uppenbuhl and the Rev. H. R. Zager told Velde they believe the injunction provisions of the Taft-Hartley act should be applied to force the miners to dig more coal.

Velde said he agreed but pointed out that action in the matter was up to President Truman.

Both Lucas and Velde helped obtain a White House appointment at which the delegation presented their views to the office of John Steelman, a presidential assistant.

The three told Velde coal was being rationed to homes, institutions and industries in Peoria and that two of the city's largest factories, the Caterpillar Tractor and Le Tourneau plants, will have to close soon if more coal is not made available.

RUSSIANS WALK AGAIN

Tokyo, Wednesday, Jan. 18—(AP)—The Russians took another walk today from the four-power allied council for Japan. It was the third time in six weeks the Soviets had left rather than discuss their failure to complete repatriation of Japanese war prisoners.

Soldier Killed, 27 Injured Fighting Brush Fire That Razed Camp Carson, Colo.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Jan. 17—(AP)—One soldier was killed, 27 critically injured and 21 others seriously burned fighting a raging brush fire that roared through Camp Carson today.

The public information officer at the hospital announced the casualty list as the fire was reported to be under control on a line a half mile north of Fountain—that is a town of 300 about 10 miles south of Colorado Springs.

At least 30 buildings in the huge army camp were gutted by flames from the brush and timber fire that broke out in the foothills section southwest of Colorado Springs.

The names of the dead soldier and the injured will not be revealed until next of kin are notified. Scores of civilian volunteers suffered minor burns in fighting the flames.

More than 60 square miles of timber and brush land were devastated.

Soldiers among the 4,000 volunteers who have been battling the wind lashed fire all day said they believed they had stopped the advance of the flames. Winds, which reached up to 75 miles an hour today, have subsided.

Officials at Fountain, a town of 300, had appealed for help earlier tonight as the flames raced southward from Camp Carson.

Army officers said the threat to sprawling Camp Carson, a vast wartime installation, had abated with a drop in the gale-like winds this evening. There were flames in the south part of the vast reservation but there is only timber and brush in that area.

More Than $1,000,000 Stolen In Boston Robbery

UAW Turns Down Chrysler Corp. Offer Of $100 A Month Pensions

Detroit, Jan. 17—(AP)—Chrysler Corp. offered its 89,000 hourly-rated employees $100 a month pensions today but the UAW United Auto Workers promptly turned down the proposal.

It was "completely inadequate," said UAW Chrysler director Norman Matthews. The union was expected to give strike notice tomorrow.

Chrysler was the second major automobile firm to make a $100-a-month pension offer. The union accepted one from the Ford Motor Co. last September.

However, Matthews said, the National UAW negotiating committee unanimously voted down the plan proposed today for three main reasons. These he listed as:

1—It "proposes to extend the present entire Chrysler collective bargaining contract, without change, except on wage rates, for a period of five years."

2—It fails to commit Chrysler to a fixed contribution in cents per hour into a trust fund to guarantee pensions of an actually sound basis" and gives the UAW no representation in administration of the proposed pension system.

3—The corporation's proposal on insurance and medical-hospital care "is a sham."

Like the Ford pension plan, the Chrysler offer embodied a proposal to make up the cost of $100-a-month benefits not provided through federal social security benefits. It set the same retirement age—65.

In addition, whereas Ford workers must have 30 years' service to be eligible, Chrysler's employees would need only 25 years under the proposed plan.

Matthews said the union would reply formally and in more detail to the company tomorrow. He was asked if the offer would provide a basis for further negotiations.

"Hell, no!" the UAW official said. Matthews had threatened to hand Chrysler a seven-day strike notice tomorrow unless "satisfactory progress was made. Negotiations are to resume at 10 a. m., and it was believed the strike notice would be given.

Robert W. Conder, Chrysler director of labor relations, said the plan was based on the company's "promise to pay."

"We believe the solvency of Chrysler Corp. is good," he added.

Chrysler, the auto industry's third largest producer, began negotiations with the UAW last July under a wage-reopening clause in the contract. The company contended at first that pensions and insurance should be considered under such a clause.

Conder said it was impossible to place an hourly evaluation on the plan. He also refused to compare the plan with Ford's, which along with an insurance program, was worth the equivalent of 10 cents an hour.

General Motors, biggest of the automotive industry's "big three," is free from pension talks for several months yet.

7 Gunmen Leave One Million Behind

Boston, Jan. 17—(AP)—More than $1,000,000 in cash was stolen tonight and another million was left behind, police said, in one of the biggest robberies in the nation's history.

Seven Halloween masked gunmen, obviously well rehearsed, pulled the holdup at Brink's Inc., a money transportation firm, on the waterfront.

Police Sgt. Edward W. Fallon, at an emergency meeting of high-ranking police officials, said:

"Over $1,000,000 was stolen tonight and they missed at least as much more because they couldn't carry it away."

2 Waited In Cars
While the seven robbers were in the firm's office, two accomplices sat behind the steering wheels of automobiles at the curb.

The gunmen entered the office at 7:10 p. m. EST, opening six locked doors to get there. Police said they opened the doors "probably with a pass key."

A company spokesman said several employees have pass keys and "possibly some former employees still have them."

Fallon inspected the robbery scene and sharply criticized the firm for the "poor security it takes to protect such huge sums of money."

Police Capt. John D. Ahearn of the Special Service squad said the robbery "was so neatly executed it must have been engineered by the cream of Boston's crime world."

Loss Covered By Insurance
John Morley, representative of the National Surety Corporation, said the loss is "fully covered" by insurance. He said a syndicate of underwriters insures Brink's against theft, fire, burglary and other risks.

Agents of the FBI said they were making a "preliminary investigation" to determine if any federal law was violated by the robbers.

Of the sum left behind, Fallon said, $800,000 included the payroll of the General Electric company and $120,000 from Filene's department store.

The manager of Brink's, Herbert Humphrey, said "no accurate picture of the loss can be made before tomorrow."

The money, all in paper bills, was scooped from an open vault into two laundry bags brought by the robbers. They left behind nearly 50 bags of silver lying in the vault.

The Brink's garage is located on the waterfront in Boston's congested north end. It is near the Summer vehicular tunnel which goes under Boston harbor to routes leading to the Massachusetts north shore.

Witnesses told police the men raced out of the Brink building into two waiting automobiles.

Police called the crime "one of the best planned jobs ever pulled off in police department records."

The Brink robbery was the second major holdup in Boston within 24 hours—Shortly before 9 a. m., yesterday, three men robbed $47,627, $26,000 in cash—from the offices of the Hotel Statler in Park Square.

The estimate of loss was given by Thomas B. Lloyd, head cashier, who said he and four other workers were trussed with heavy wrapping cord by the gunmen.

Before that, one of the holdup men, Lloyd said, pushed a gun through a wire cage enclosing the vault and ordered Charles S. Grell, another employee, to "open up."

That was the first sign of a hold-up, Lloyd said. After Grell opened the door, the men rushed in and tied up the workers.

Forecasts Crisis In Foreign Money

Chicago, Jan. 17—(AP)—An early new crisis in foreign currencies was forecast today by Dr. Melchior Payll, economist.

The former economic adviser to the Berlin Deutschebank said the Marshall Plan has been "a total failure."

He said in a talk prepared for the Illinois Manufacturers' Costs Association that Europe is not worried about her plight.

"We have succeeded in convincing our friends and customers that we need them, cost what may," he said. "Nothing short of restoring free commodity and capital markets can do the trick."

Renew Fight For Expansion Of Social Security System

Volunteer Flood Fighters Come To Aid Of Vincennes

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 17—(AP)—Volunteer flood fighters began trooping into Vincennes today to build secondary barriers against a possible record-breaking flood in the Wabash river.

As army engineers retreated from the 29-foot concrete floodwall, volunteers began answering Mayor William L. Betz' appeal for 1,000 helpers.

The engineers said the secondary sandbag barriers, set back 40 to 100 feet from the wall, are intended to impound backwater so it will help support the wall.

This strategy is aimed at making use of the water seeping through the wall, though it means minor flooding at the edge of the business district.

Although the river rose 14 feet in one three-hour period today, the weather bureau in Indianapolis stood by its prediction of a crest no higher than the top of the 29-foot wall.

A 28.23-foot level was reported this afternoon. Paul Miller, chief meteorologist, said the crest can be expected Thursday night or Friday.

The Wabash is a virtual lake from here to Lawrenceville, Ill., eight miles to the west.

RIVER POLLUTION GROUP WILL HOLD PUBLIC MEET THUR.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 17—(AP)—The Illinois river pollution commission, a legislative group, will hold its first public meeting Thursday in Peoria.

The commission will meet in conjunction with the Peoria chapter of Illinois Federation of Sportsmen.

The commission was created by the 1949 legislature to investigate causes of pollution in the Illinois river and recommend legislation to curb this situation.

Signs Show That Increase May Be OK'd

Washington, Jan. 17—(AP)—The administration renewed its fight for a vast expansion of the social security administrator, asked Congress some increase in coverage, benefits and taxes will be written into law this year.

Arthur J. Altmeyer, the social security administrator, asked Congress to extend old age insurance benefits and taxes until they cover practically all of the nearly 60,000,000 persons gainfully employed in the U. S.

Old age insurance now covers about 35,000,000 workers.

The House has already approved a bill which would raise this total to 46,000,000, bringing in self-employed persons, many domestic servants, and employees of local and state governments.

Did Not Mention All
Altmeyer did not mention all of the additional trades and professions he would like to see brought into the system. But he recommended specifically that 5,000,000 farm operators and farm workers be covered. And he urged that more domestic workers be included than under the House-approved bill.

The social security chief testified before the Senate finance committee, whose ranking democrat and republican have both predicted that increased benefits and broader coverage will be approved by the Senate and enacted into law this year.

Altmeyer recommended not only that coverage be broadened. He proposed also that benefits be increased more than they would be under the House bill. And he urged that social security taxes be collected on the first $4,800 of a worker's annual income, instead of only on the first $3,000 as at present.

The last proposal drew fire from republicans.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) argued the effect of it would be to make higher income workers carry a large part of the cost for the lower income workers. He contended those who paid taxes on larger incomes would not get back at retirement what they had put in.

Altmeyer said that workers paying taxes on income above $3,000 would receive higher benefits. But he added that the increase in their benefits would not be as high, in proportion to the taxes they pay, as increases proposed for workers with lower wages.

Senator Brewster (R-Maine) stepped into the argument, declaring no insurance company would ever write such an insurance program. He said workers in higher salary brackets would not agree to help pay insurance benefits for someone else.

Altmeyer urged that the formula for figuring benefits be liberalized. Under his proposal, he said, an average worker earning $200 a month, who had been insured continuously since 1937 and whose wife had also reached retirement age, would get a monthly retirement benefit of $111.

TRAFFIC DEATHS IN 1949 DROPS 8%
Springfield, Ill., Jan. 17—(AP)—Illinois highway traffic accidents claimed 1,781 lives last year, an eight per cent drop from 1948, the state Public Works and Buildings Department reported today.

Director Charles P. Casey said the figures represented the greatest peace-time reduction in the annual motor vehicle accident death toll since 1938. Casey added that only during World War II, under drastic curtailment of civilian automotive travel, were lower comparable death rates recorded.

5,000 Flee Homes Before Flooding Mississippi River

By The Associated Press
Four to five thousand persons fled their homes in southeast Missouri Tuesday before the flooding Mississippi, on its worst rampage in 13 years.

Army engineers' warnings they may have to dynamite a levee to ease the pressure on the fast rising stream sent evacuees streaming from the Birds Point-New Madrid floodway.

The engineers have authority over the floodway—home of some 12,000 people—which is maintained for just such an emergency. Many more of the lowlanders were expected to flee before morning.

Other midwestern rivers were on a rampage, too. With the floods still rising, the situation grew more critical hourly.

More rain was forecast for the valley of the Ohio river, already swollen to many times its normal size and flooding many thousands of acres of farmland and some southern Illinois and western Kentucky towns.

At Lawrenceville, Ill., a Wabash river levee broke Tuesday night, pouring more water onto an area already inundated by the flooded Embarras river.

State Dept. Says 138 Americans Are Still In Red China

Washington, Jan. 17—(AP)—The State department said today there are exactly 100 foreign service employees and dependents in Communist China and an additional 38 defense department employees and dependents.

The State department gave out the names of its employees and their home addresses. The military list, which was not issued by the State department, includes 18 military personnel, four civilians and 16 dependents.

All of the 138 Americans are under orders to get out of Communist China as quickly as transportation can be arranged.

There are seven at Tientsin, including: Tientsin-Tullock, Gordon C., vice consul, RR2, Rockford, Ill.

14 Million Bus. Of Illinois Corn Under 1949 Loan

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 17—(AP)—The Federal Department of Agriculture reported today that 14,624,419 bushels of 1949 Illinois corn were registered for government price support on Jan. 1.

Lee M. Gentry, Illinois chairman of the Production and Marketing Administration, gave the figure. The amount was nearly 4,500,000 bushels more than the 10,051,444 bushels registered on Jan. 1, 1949.

The amounts of other crops under price support in the state at the start of 1950 included 5,078,947 bushels of wheat, 3,300,223 bushels of oats and 1,738,863 bushels of soybeans.

The total amount of the four products receiving price support was 25,241,432 bushels.

WHATEVER THE RESULT, BRITISH ELECTION WILL BE A CONTEST

Britain's five-year experiment in socialism faces its first test Feb. 23. The United States and the rest of the world will be watching keenly the outcome of the general election set for that date.

The Labor Party was catapulted into power on July 5, 1945, by a 200-seat margin in the House of Commons. With that sweeping mandate, it proceeded to nationalize the coal industry, electric utilities, the railroads, most civil aviation and some truck lines. It laid the ground for government ownership of the steel business. The controversial national health service was created.

Whichever way the Feb. 23 election goes, wild claims and counter-claims as to its meaning are sure to be flung about. So it is well to be clear what really will be at issue.

The Labor Party proposes to continue socializing Britain by extending government control to the cement, sugar and meat distribution industries and possibly others.

Under Winston Churchill's leadership, the Conservative Party does not propose to restore to private ownership any industry now run by the government. Nor does it plan to toss out the health and other social services which in this country would be called "welfare state" measures. The Conservatives actually promise more such services.

On the other hand, they do intend to scrap nationalization of steel (set to take effect Jan. 1, 1951) and to bar any further socializing of industry. And they pledge lower taxes and government expenditures.

So the question is not maintenance of the welfare state, nor of such socialism as already exists. The issue in this voting test will be whether or not to EXTEND socialism.

Predicting the winner would be hazardous. Since capturing 393 of 640 House seats in 1945, Labor has won all 35 of the special elections held to fill vacancies. That would suggest its chances of staying in power another five years are good.

As compared with 1945 majorities, however, Labor's winning margins in these special elections have declined. Some British newspapers consider the drop sufficient to overturn the party if the same results are projected nationwide in the general election.

The Conservatives find further encouragement in the sharp swing away from Labor in last year's local elections and the recent public opinion polls showing a loss of popularity for the Labor regime.

But no one can be sure what these signs really portend. A switch of just five or six per cent of the vote to the Conservative side could put that party back in power by a comfortable parliamentary margin. But Labor could see its advantage cut by two or perhaps three per cent without losing the reins. It's a contest.

Cooking School Morsels

Apologies go to the 500 women who arrived too late to be admitted to the school. Limited space made it necessary to draw the line at the 1,200 mark.

Indications are that Wednesday's attendance will be as large as that of the opening day. Therefore, it is suggested that the women get to the theatre as early as possible to better their chances of gaining entrance. Doors open at 8 a. m.

An interesting feature of the first day's session was a demonstration of the General Electric Flatplate Ironer by Mrs. Hazel Conner, G-E laundry specialist.

Mrs. Conner has been with G-E for the past three years, working out of the St. Louis office.

The ease and smoothness with which the school glides along belies the hard work it actually takes to put on a show of this kind.

Miss Holland and her very capable assistant, Miss Carter, arrived at the theatre early Tuesday morning to begin the numerous tasks which must be attended to before the show gets underway.

A good deal of hustle and bustle is prevalent backstage, where Mrs. Irene Baker and Mrs. Dorothy Teeters, both of Chapin, are hard at work in their roles of assisting the instructors.

All General Electric appliances are being used at the school. A stove and refrigerator are in use backstage. On the stage are two push-button General Electric Speedster ranges, a G-E refrigerator, sink unit and deep freezer. A General Electric display is also in the lobby.

Others assisting with the school were Walter H. Deshara, John Harmon, Alice Tendick, Dallas Whitehurst, Ernest Vieira, Arthur McFarland and Charles Waite and Bill Suggs, both of whom are connected with Robin Hood flour. Mr. Waite is retail salesman and Mr. Suggs is territory salesman.

Mrs. Mary Craig and Miss Mary Bentley are the attractive girls who assist in the parade of foods. They wear identical costumes, consisting of a peasant blouse and figured skirt.

The first women in the theatre Tuesday morning were Mrs. Edwin McHenry, 615 South Prairie street, and Mrs. George McHenry, 585 Pine street.

As usual, there were several men attending the school, and from all appearances, they seemed to be enjoying the experience.

Former assistant home adviser for Morgan and Scott counties, Mrs. Eloise Tholen, who recently resigned that position, was among the first day's crowd.

Miss Holland presented a set of knives to the newest bride present, Mrs. Patricia Boster, 118 Hardin avenue, who was married in December.

Special attention is called to this year's recipe book, which as an added feature, contains several points on meat cookery, carving and care.

Homemakers can more or less learn what they want to at the school, as a result of Miss Holland's request for suggestions. If there is any particular phase of cooking, which any of the women would like elaborated upon, they are asked to write down their suggestion and bring it to the school Wednesday, when they will be collected by the ushers.

Miss Edna Osborne, home ec teacher at Jacksonville High school, brought two of her classes to the school Tuesday.

Reading Circle Holds Banquet

The Jacksonville Teachers Reading Circle held its annual guest night banquet at the Dunlap hotel Tuesday night with 21 members and several guests attending. Mrs. Harriett Milburn presided in the absence of the president.

Mrs. Helen Wright Lukeman gave two interesting readings, "The Creation" and "A Similar Creation." Games were played during the evening. The hostesses were Mrs. Erma Schwendemann, Mrs. Thelma Daly and Mrs. Mildred Kane.

CARD PARTY AT ASHLAND

Homebodies
Beware

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
New York — The home is the most dangerous place for fatal accidents, and the bedroom is the most dangerous room.

Accidents at home killed 35,000 Americans last year, or 3,000 more than died on highways and streets, says Frederick S. Kent, sanitary engineer of the Public Health Service, Washington.

Thirty-two per cent of fatal accidents occurred in bedrooms, studies by the Kansas State Health Department and Nassau, N. Y. County health department found.

The second most dangerous place was the yard, with 14 per cent of the deaths. Next in danger came kitchen, living room, and bathroom.

Home accidents also caused about half of the 10,300,000 accidental injuries in 1948, Kent says. Nearly 140,000 persons suffered permanent handicaps from home injuries.

The Kansas and Nassau studies, over a period of several years, found that 60 per cent of fatal home accidents were due to falls. More people were killed in falls on the same level than in falls from one level to another.

Fire caused 14 per cent of deaths, and suffocation or strangulation 10 per cent. Poisoning by gas, liquids, or solids, deaths by firearms or by drownings totaled a little more than two per cent.

Health departments should act to prevent home accidents, Kent declared in a report to the American Public Health Association.

On How To Get Security

By Hal Boyle
New York, Jan. 17 — P. — Look backward 50 years—look forward 50 years—and which period would you rather live in.

The right answer to that lies in what kind of a world is being made right now, from day to day and year to year.

But as the century rolls into its fiftieth year many elderly people are doubtful that life today holds as much fun or security as it did between 1900 and 1910. My mother is one of those.

"I think young people today have a much harder time of it than we did when I was a girl," she told me. This surprised me, as it is more customary for her contemporaries to complain that this is a lazy, pleasure-seeking generation. I asked her why she thought as she did. And her answer surprised me even more.

No Housing Shortage
"Well, we didn't have all the labor-saving things around the home that young wives do now," she said. "But I think we had more real security. People in those days didn't seem to have so much trouble finding a place to live, and I don't think they had to worry so much about what would happen next."

And she added placidly:
"I really feel sorry for the young people today, and I wouldn't want to trade places with them at all."

In the world of 1900 to 1914 America was a young self-confident giant just realizing his power, certain he could stand alone and whip all comers because he had always done so. Middle-Aged Giant.

But in the world of 1950 America is a middle-aged giant, even stronger in adulthood, but realizing now the responsibility of his power—and that he doesn't stand alone.

Security in 1900 for the average American meant a home, a job with opportunity for advancement, and a chance to educate his children.

Different Insecurity
Today the aged insecurity caused by poverty and unemployment has been reduced in the United States by a half century of social progress unknown before in history. But the new insecurity created by two world wars has increased tenfold. The shadow of the atom bomb hangs as heavily over the American home as it does over the Russian.

It is hard to see how America or the rest of the world, for we are all knotted together in that problem, will ever know real security again until we learn, as H. G. Wells said, that "our true nationality is mankind."

If the goal is reached in 50 years, then the world of 2000 will be as much fun and as safe to live in as that lost world our mothers loved as girls.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peccolo of Mosca, Col., are the parents of a daughter, Sarah Lee, born Jan. 11 at the Alamosa hospital. The child weighed six pounds and 15 ounces. The mother was formerly Miss Mary Mehroff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Mehroff of Murrayville.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hulett of Jacksonville route 4 are parents of a son, weight ten pounds, eight ounces, born Jan. 13.

The couple has planned a reception for Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Fairview Methodist church, three miles north of Chandlerville.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Abbott are life-long residents of this community. They are still living in the same home where they first resided after their marriage. Mr. Abbott is an extensive land owner and farmer.

There are 14 grandchildren.

IN PATH OF CHINESE REDS—Recent Chinese policy controversy in Washington focused American attention on Formosa, but another Nationalist island, Hainan, is more tempting bait for immediate invasion by the Chinese Communists. Lying like a huge oyster close to the Chinese mainland, Hainan strategically blocks any approach to China from the south and dominates the sea routes to French Indo-China and British Hong Kong. It has the same area as Formosa, about twice that of New Jersey.

"Doesn't Know Why" She Puts Over Bad Checks

A tall, blue-eyed girl, who appears repentant each time she is arrested for check forgeries, was sentenced to one year at the woman's reformatory at Dwight when she was taken into county court here Tuesday to face a charge of violating probation.

She is Coral Mae Allen, 19, who less than a month ago was admitted to probation after she pleaded guilty to cashing a worthless check at the Farmers State Bank.

The Allen girl returned to this city after a short stay at her stepfather's home in Iowa, and Monday is alleged to have forged a check for $75 at the Walker furniture store. She was placed under arrest at 3:30 o'clock
Tuesday morning at the union bus station where she was waiting to board a bus to Marshalltown, Iowa, her home in Iowa without his consent.

The arrest was made by Lt. sent.
Howard Stout of the police department and Deputy Arthur Roach of the county forces. She was taken to the police station for questioning.

Miss Allen did not deny that she forged the name of another woman to the check which she cashed at the furniture store in part payment for some furniture she selected.

"Why do you do these things?"
Judge Paul Fenstermaker asked the young woman at Tuesday's hearings. "Is it your home life?"

The girl sat with downcast eyes, twisting a handkerchief. "I don't know," she said simply.

The court asked her if she knew the difference between right and wrong, to which she replied in the affirmative. She admitted in the presence of officers that she served several months in an Iowa corrective institution on a charge involving a check.

The court said her commitment to Dwight will be accompanied by a letter recommending psychiatric tests if these are considered necessary.

At her previous hearing the girl was admitted to probation for one year and placed in custody of her stepfather. She is said to have left

Soil Testing Work Doubles, But Still Far Behind Needs

Urbana—Soil-testing work supervised by the Illinois College of Agriculture has more than doubled in the past two years, but is still much slower than it should be.

A. U. Thor, in charge of 79 county soil-testing laboratories over the state, reports today that about 700,000 acres were tested in 1947, and more than 1,000,000 acres in 1948. Last year he estimates, close to 1,500,000 acres of farm land were tested for fertility.

Thor says there are about 26,000,000 acres of cropland and plowable pastures in Illinois. If we test 1,500,000 acres each year, it would take just over 17 years to complete the job once. But the agronomist indicates that soils should be retested every six to eight years at least. Thor declares:

"It's clear that we need to test many more acres each year if we expect to get the job done before it is too late."

By taking soil samples to his county laboratory, a farmer can find out how much limestone, phosphate, and potash his land needs for best crop yields. He can then put them on according to soil tests and know that his soil is at top fertility. The fertility value of limestone and rock phosphate, two of the most widely used plant foods, lasts from 10 to 15 years at least, and sometimes longer.

Polish Jews Still On Move

Tel Aviv —(AP)—Jewish authorities directing the "ingathering of the exiles" hope 20,000 Jews will come to Israel from Poland in 1950 to find a new home. About 100,000 Jews from Poland are now believed to be here.

Polish authorities recently have tended to let the bars down on Jewish immigration to Israel. In recent weeks, several large transports of Polish Jews have arrived.

Available estimates indicate 50,000 and 60,000 Jews remain in Poland out of a prewar population of 3,600,000. The Nazis were said to have wiped out 3,000,000. Hundreds of thousands have been scattered in various countries since the war.

Forrestal Bust Ordered

Washington —(AP)—The son of the late Kyosti Kallio, president of Finland from 1937 to 1940, has won a commission to execute a bronze bust of the late James Forrestal, first secretary of defense.

The sculptor, Kalervo Kallio, won by submitting a plaster model in an open competition. His bust was the unanimous choice of the award committee. The Forrestal Memorial Committee, of which Defense Secretary Johnson is chairman, will pay $5,000 for the bust. It will be erected at one of the entrances to the Pentagon.

HOTTEST ENGINE NEWS of 1950

That's the word spreading about Buick's brand-new F-263 valve-in-head engine, already proving itself in the hands of new SUPER owners

CALL it if you will the biggest power-story of the year. Call it another triumph in Buick's long history of coming up with car performance beyond compare.

But, sir, when you step into the sleek-lined traveler pictured here—hang on to your hat.

For you'll be riding behind a power plant that is not only new but a major sensation of the 1950 season.

You'll be commanding the very latest word in valve-in-head power—the newest accomplishment of the organization with the country's longest stretch of experience in this engine design.

Here every fist-size fuel charge now delivers a huskier wallop. Shorter, lighter connecting rods mean that pistons flash with faster and livelier action.

Heavier crankshafts, floated on bigger, more rugged bearings, take this greater load and transmit its stepped-up surge to the drive shaft and rear wheels.

And you, behind the wheel, wear the face in smiles at the lift you find! At the trigger-quick take-off—the mile-eating cruising stride—your easy disdain for the passing gas pumps.

You and your SUPER are really stepping out—and Buick's good name as "a sweet heart on the road" gains still more lustre.

Nor is road-thrill the only blessing this new power plant brings. Simpler design makes service easier, so upkeep diminishes as a problem. Hydraulic valve-lifters keep valves properly seated for efficient operation—and for quiet unbroken by tappet noise.

And you can have this power either with Buick's easy-shifting Synchro-Mesh transmission or the silken luxury of Dynaflo Drive.*

Either way, this SUPER is certainly something to see. To this top-notch new power it adds style and room, comfort and a wide outlook, soft easy stride and handier new over-all length.

Even the price justifies a prompt trip to your Buick dealer to learn more about Buick for 1950. You'll soon see why so many folks are already saying, "Whatever your price range—better buy Buick!"

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

District Scout Leaders Discuss 1950 Activities

"To get more boys into Scouting and more Scouting into boys," will be the main job of the District Scout Committee for 1950, Willard Cody, district chairman, told a group of Scouters Monday evening.

Members of institutions sponsoring Scouting along with members of the district committee met with Chairman Cody and District Executive D. M. McDermott to outline the program for 1950.

Mr. McDermott gave a report on the National Jamboree to be held at Valley Forge. This district expects to send a Jamboree troop to the national affair.

District Commissioner H. L. Williamson Jr. explained the Commissioner service and stated that the round table meeting for all adult Scout leaders would be held January 30, then once a month thereafter. These meetings he explained, would help leaders of Cub, Scout and Explorer groups in their planning and programming.

The advancement and Merit Badge part of the Scout work was discussed. Mr. Cody announced that the necessary changes are under way. He also stated that the training committee under the leadership of Arthur Samore will conduct training courses for Scoutmasters and Cub and Explorer leaders in the near future.

William Fanning spoke on the growth of Scouting and explained that he felt the group should work as hard holding the interest of the present members as they did in securing new members.

Edward Bargery and Waldo McGreevy spoke on the National Jamboree.

Members from Waverly, Alsey and Jacksonville attended the meeting.

Morgan County Licensed Pilots 50, Aircraft 20

Fifty Morgan county residents held pilot licenses during 1949 and 20 airplanes were registered in this county, according to figures released Tuesday by the state aeronautics department.

Cass county had 24 licensed pilots, nine planes; Greene county, eight licenses, five planes; Pike county, eight licenses, no planes; Scott county, seven licenses, three planes.

Joseph K. McLaughlin, director of the state aeronautics department, reported that a total of 9,676 pilots and 3,565 aircraft owners registered their federal certificates with the state in 1949. The figures represent an increase of 193 pilots and 20 aircraft over 1948.

The department also disclosed that 282 women pilots are registered together with 44 helicopter and 161 glider pilots.

During the same period the department reported the number of restricted landing areas for private aircraft in the state increased from 240 to 325. Airports decreased from 166 to 161 and the number of flight schools dropped from 162 to 143.

McLaughlin said the number of registered aircraft increased despite a loss of 390 planes through transfer or sale to out-of-state owners, dismantling and destruction in accidents.

Cook county led the list of counties with 2,574 pilots and 603 aircraft.

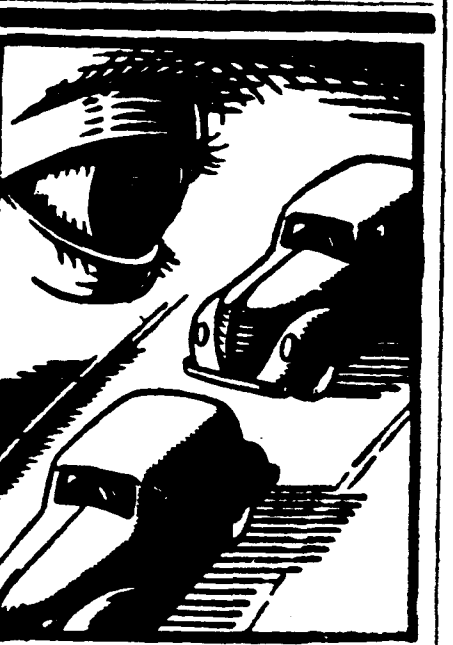

U. S. dairy cattle have been increasing at the rate of 2,000,000 every ten years.

Truman Addresses Banking Group

Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—President Truman says that when he leaves the White House, he hopes the country will be "on the road to accomplishing" world peace and prosperity and welfare for all.

In stating this goal, at a dinner of representatives of the Federal Reserve System last night, he did not say when he expects to quit as "head of the greatest government in the history of the world."

Nor did Mr. Truman touch on the subject of his proposed new taxes, an item of particular interest to financial circles.

He did tell the members of the banking fraternity that one reason he appeared at their dinner was to show that "that I do not wear horns

Display Machines For Maintenance Jobs On Machines

New York, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The machine age has reached the stage where it takes machines to maintain the machines that turn out the nation's goods.

Factory housekeeping, or maintenance, has become so expensive that the nation's bill for it just about equals what the stockholders get in dividends.

And some maintenance engineers predict the time is coming when the maintenance men—the ones who do the housekeeping on plants and machines—will outnumber the production men—the ones who push the buttons and watch the machines.

This is because of the steady trend toward mechanization of industries, and toward automatic operation of machines.

So now they propose to mechanize maintenance. Special machines designed for various maintenance jobs are on display this week in Cleveland where more than 1,000 engineers and factory housekeepers are meeting to attend the first plant maintenance show and conference, sponsored by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the Society for the Advancement of Maintenance.

The nation's bill for maintenance and repairs in 1948 was more than $8 billion, James E. Sutherland, vice president of MacDonald Brothers of Detroit, told the conference, and costs will continue to climb.

This is painful today when costs cut even deeper into profits while mounting competition whittles at prices. But maintenance is one of a handful of costs left for management to cut. Others, like taxes, rents, raw materials, labor and construction, stay high, almost to the point of becoming fixed.

To cut housekeeping costs special tools for doing the factory housekeeping and repair jobs more quickly and cheaply are being designed.

Engineers are coming up with oilless bearings and automatic oiling systems.

MURDER TRIAL OF GIRL, 18, OPENS IN TEXAS

Brady, Tex., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Selection of a jury to try 18-year-old Sandra Peterson for the hitchhike slaying of a Brady real estate dealer started today.

The Somerville, Mass., girl was 17 when Louis Patterson's body was found dumped in a roadside ditch near here last Aug. 26. He had been shot.

She recently observed her 18th birthday. The birthday anniversary made it legal for her to be tried in Texas for murder. An indictment charging her in Patterson's death was returned shortly after she became 18.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Livestock pricing ruled steady to lower throughout most of the list today. Hogs were weak to 25 cents off, cattle steady to weak, lambs 25 to 50 cents less at the close, and ewes firm.

Woolled lambs topped at $23.75, clipped kinds at $22.00, yearlings at $20.00, and ewes at $13.00.

Republican State Senators Protest Public Aid Cuts

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Republican state senators have protested Illinois public aid cuts "across the board, regardless of the needs of an individual recipient."

In a statement giving their views, the GOP senators said yesterday: "We further disapprove the newly adopted policy of the state public aid commission to eliminate items that should be, and heretofore have been, considered essential to ordinary decent subsistence."

The IPAC, beset by budgetary problems arising from lengthening assistance rolls, recently ordered blanket reductions in grants for child aid and general relief recipients.

The commission halted allowances for what it called "less essential" items such as haircuts, tooth paste and first aid supplies.

The Republican senators questioned whether an attempt to be made "to create an artificial crisis in order to lay a false foundation upon which to demand additional or new taxes."

New York Stock Market

New York, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Steel and automobiles stocks spearheaded a broad advance in the market today.

Two pronounced buying spells carried prices ahead fractions to more than a point. Turnover picked up as the Amarillo Air terminal, 33 miles from here.

Only a whiff of buying was enough to raise quotations in some groups—notably rail, radio-television, liquor and copper shares.

Corporate bonds, including rail obligations, moved narrowly.

Greenfield Quintet Edged By ISD Tigers Here Tuesday, 44-39

Coach Spike Wilson's Illinois School for the Deaf quintet fought a determined battle with the Greenfield Tigers for four quarters at I.S.D.'s west end gymnasium last night to chalk up their tenth victory in eleven starts this season, 44-39.

The win marked a successful return to regularly scheduled games for the local team, which Saturday night topped first place honors in the Louisiana, Missouri, invitational meet.

Cochran Out Of Lineup

Greenfield, although playing without the services of ace Dean Cochran, whose father died Tuesday morning, made repeated bids for the lead during the close combat, but each time the host club stood off the visitors' big guns.

The I.S.D. aggregation displayed a controlling ball game, their deliberate play being designed to draw out a Greenfield zone defense. The Jacksonville club worked the ball well during the first two chapters, gaining repeated short shots, but they were slightly off at the hoop and some of their work therefore failed to bring the desired results.

In the second half the host five mixed their plays with long shots over the heads of the Greenfield players. Alta Hood, getting into the thick of things after a forced lay-up because of a lame knee, pushed through a quantity of one-handed set shots from the left side of the court to aid the I.S.D. cause and press little Leo Cecil for scoring honors.

Cecil Scores 21 Points

Cecil, once again, was the main plug in the westenders' offense however. He hit both long and

Double-Header Cage Show At ISD Tonight For March Of Dimes

Because the March of Dimes campaign committee likes to give its contributors something for their money, Jacksonville basketball fans have the opportunity to witness a pair of top-notch hardwood tussles at the ISD arena tonight.

In the only major campaign for Infantile Paralysis funds, the committee, headed by Basil Sorrells and comprised of Elmer Lukeman, Bill Hofmann, Bill Ransdall and Joe Doyle, has scheduled a double-header basketball program that brings to town a pair of teams that ordinarily would never be watched by local fans short of the state tournament.

Benl and Carthage, a pair of rugged, competitive ball clubs, get together in the preliminary at the west end gym this evening, game time 7 p.m.

Route, only local club in the show, locks horns with Pittsfield's Saukette tribe in the 8:30 headliner.

Officials are donating their services for the two games.

Bill Caldwell of Waverly will referee the Benl, Carthage encounter and Jim Buckley and Orville Sherwood will call the second game.

Athletic Booster Club members will provide ushers, ticket-takers and general handy-men.

The Rockets, coached by Paul Stroud, held Pittsfield to a seven-point victory the last time the quintets met that last season during the holiday tournament. Pittsfield later fought its way into the state tournament at Champaign.

Main problem for the local asters will be to stop big Rich Zimmerman, Saukette pivot man. In Route, center Paul Saner, however, Zimmerman will find a boy as big or bigger than he. Saner turned in an effective defensive job against the big Pike county athlete last season and Stroud is banking on the husky blond youngster will do the same this evening.

Starters for Route will be Dick Caster and Hinky Henry. Forwards: Paul Saner, center and A. J. Spreen and Sonny Loneran, guards.

By Bob Merris

We doff our derby to Coach Joe Treat and his Franklin basketball team that fought all the way against superior (rated) odds and almost pulled an upset out of the hat against Jerseyville's toasted Panthers at the Winchester tournament last night.

Franklin seems to be on the comeback trail. After a dismal early season showing (record to date 2-9) the Flames may come into the foreground as a Virginia regional contender. Franklin, as you know, replaces Routt in the regional. The Rockets must play in the Meredosia district — the champion of which moves on to Virginia.

Jacksonville high and I.S.D. — who by the way now owns the best record of any team in town 10-1 — have also been placed in the Virginia tournament.

Officials who have been watching first-round bouts of the Winchester tournament closely and have yet to see an upset, all agree that upsets will be the order of the day before too many quarter-final tussles are finished. Few experts will place their verbal backing with the number-one rated Griggsville aggregation. Most like the looks of Mt. Sterling and some lean towards Jacksonville.

Congrats to Winchester principal Allen Ligon and his cohorts for a job well done in successfully managing the tournament crowds which, so far, have been well over par. An event of such magnitude isn't planned on the back of an old envelope. The manner in which the sessions have been run off to date indicates that many heads were together many hours in Principal Ligon's office.

Al Miller and his Illinois college Blueboys are set to show home folks that things are due for a change where their Little Nine status is concerned. The Hilltoppers entertain Illinois Wesleyan, a definite threat for the CCI title, on the I.S.D. court Saturday night. The Millermen, still steaming from a 74-72 defeat suffered in the hands of North Central there last Saturday, are primed to better their record when the Titans from Bloomington hit town.

Meredosia Defeats Arenzville Club 69-56 Tuesday

Meredosia — The Indians of Meredosia maintained a slim lead through most of the ball game here Tuesday night, then surged away in a torrid fourth quarter to repulse Arenzville's ball club, 69-56.

Simon, Allen and Newman were tops in the scoring department for the hosts, while Don Wessler was big gunner for Arenzville.

It was a non-conference tiff.

Officials—Fraser and Plummer.

Delbert "Pickles" Mitchell was the outstanding single performer of the evening. He tossed in 30 points to lead his Waverly Scotties to a 57-37 victory over the Hardin Tigers.

After a slow first-half, Waverly turned on the steam to speed to the easy victory and win the right to oppose Jacksonville high school in a quarter-final match at 6:45 this evening.

The second "shooting star" was on a losing team. G. Chamberlain, big Nebo forward, registered 27 counters, but his efforts were in vain as the Carrollton Hawks picked up a 59-50 one-way ticket into the quarter finals of this 28th annual Winchester invitational meet.

Stocky Buddy Moss, ex-footballer, was the offensive star for Dick Hamans Carrollton club. He netted 15 points for the winners, scoring most of them on the receiving end of a fast-break.

Speedy Mt. Sterling proved that it deserved its second-place rating in the tournament and maybe higher by eliminating a not-too-bad Northwestern of Palmyra outfit 77-38 in the third game Tuesday night.

Again an individual star was not lacking. Dick McClelland, blazing fast Green Hornet forward, broke down the floor time and again on a fast-break, dumping in 10 field goals and three gift shots for a 23 point performance.

Tuesday night's second-session crowd was estimated at well over three hundred larger than Monday night's.

Franklin In Near Upset

And the large crowd saw what would have been the tournament's biggest upset when an inspired Franklin quintet came within a breath of knocking off the highly regarded Jerseyville Panthers, Illinois Valley conference leaders, before falling 46-41, before a last minute Jerseyville surge.

Franklin fell behind 11-6 in the first period but, led by Dick Sweet (who was a bitter pill for Jerseyville all night) came back to knot the count 21-21 at halftime. The Panthers led 34-33 going into the last chapter.

Joe Treat's booming Flashes went ahead of Jerseyville twice in the final quarter but when Sweet left the game via the foul route, the Morgan county five lost ground rapidly and dropped the tussle by a five-point margin.

The Box Scores:

Philadelphia, Jan. 17 — (AP) — Eddie Waitkus mailed in his signed contract today and let it be known that he's ready for a full season of baseball.

Seven months ago, Waitkus hovered near death in a Chicago hospital, the victim of a bullet from a 19-year-old girl's gun.

Eddie today told his boss, president Bob Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies, that he's in good physical condition, only two pounds under his playing weight.

And he said he's ready to take over the Phil's first base job as the club fights it out for the National League pennant. The Phils finished third last year with Waitkus missing two-thirds of the season.

Before he was shot by Ruth Anne Steinhagen, who since has been sent to an institution, Waitkus was recognized as the finest first baseman in the big leagues.

Whether he'll be able to go all the way on the long road back is something even Carpenter and Phil's manager Eddie Sawyer won't predict.

But they made it clear today that they're "very encouraged" over Waitkus' progress. And, said Carpenter, "if they pay off as he ever was."

Picket Is Killed By Coal Truck Crashing Blockade

Flushing, O., Jan. 17 — (AP) — A truck carrying union-mined coal struck and killed a picket at a union road blockade today west of this little town in the heart of eastern Ohio's coal fields, the highway patrol reported.

Coal diggers disatisfied with John L. Lewis' three-day work week set up the blockade on state highway 331 yesterday. They attempted to persuade miners in the nearby C. & M. mine not to work, and to keep truckers from hauling coal.

It was not clear, troopers said, whether the truck driver deliberately attempted to run the blockade. They said the "assumption" was that the driver was trying to drive through the five or ten miners who formed a human chain across the road.

Troopers arrested Lawrence Franks, 20, of Piedmont, O., the driver, and took him to the jail at the county seat in nearby St. Clairsville. Highway patrolmen said they would question him tonight or tomorrow.

Killed was Silvio Dalpiaz, 53, of Lefferty, O.

Troopers said another report was that Franks' truck hit three parked cars before swerving into Dalpiaz.

Jerseyville Leads Valley Conference With 5-0 Record

By John Campbell

The strong Jerseyville Panthers are leading the Illinois Valley conference with five victories during the first half of the conference schedule. Winchester's defending champs are crowding the leaders with four wins and a single loss.

Carrollton's improved Hawks are in third position with a 3-2 mark. Greenfield, White Hall and Roodhouse are next in the conference standings.

In Naim and Reynolds the Jerseyville has two of the highest scoring yards in the loop. Both are among the top five in individual scoring at the five game mark.

In Ivy games played last week the Jerseyville club downed White Hall 4-39 while the Winchester Wildcats on over Roodhouse 63-46 and Carrollton dumped the Greenfield five 34-1 in a rough game at the Greenfield gym. All valley teams except Greenfield are competing in the Winchester tourney this week.

Ys Athletics In Colleges Have Ruin Democracy In Us

Providence, R. I., Jan. 17 — (AP) — Dr. B. Nash of New York university today that college athletics have a shambles of democracy and that if there are a dozen honest administrators in America it comes to athletics.

Nash addressed the first Rhode Island conference on physical education, health and recreation, sponsored by the state departments of education and the R. I. Association for Physical Education, and Recreation and the R. I. State of Instruction.

Nash must relate physical education to the whole field of education, can't separate physical education from the mental since it draws something of the emotions and mind," Dr. Nash said. He said that physical education is recreation, health, citizen-development of character and the ground work for vocational training.

Irish, Oklahoma Will Clash On Gridiron In 1952

Norman, Okla., Jan. 17 — (AP) — Notre Dame and Oklahoma, the nation's two top college football teams of 1949, will meet in a home-and-home gridiron series in 1952 and 1953. It was announced here today.

Charles "Bud" Wilkinson, athletic director and head coach at Oklahoma, said the two teams would play first at Notre Dame on Nov. 8, 1952, and meet in a return game at Owen Field here Sept. 26, 1953.

A similar announcement of the agreement, rumored often since Notre Dame and Oklahoma finished first and second in the final Associated Press poll of the last grid season, was to be made simultaneously by Notre Dame officials, Wilkinson said.

"I'm very pleased that the two top teams of 1949 will meet in 1952 and 1953," Dr. George L. Cross, president of the University of Oklahoma, said in discussing the agreement. "The visit of Notre Dame to Owen Field, Norman, in 1953 should be an unforgettable thrill for Oklahomans."

LESS ILLINOISANS HAD DISEASE IN 1940'S

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 17 — Most of the 22 major communicable diseases commonly found in Illinois struck fewer persons in the 1940's than in preceding decades.

One state health department said today that the incidence of 16 diseases fell off, among them diphtheria, pneumonia, syphilis, smallpox and scarlet fever.

Rising rates were recorded for six communicable illnesses, including infantile paralysis, gonorrhea, undulant fever and mumps. A record high of 2,855 polio cases was reported in 1949.

Man Given Year For Fitting Cows With False Teeth

Winchester, Eng., Jan. 17 — (AP) — A man charged with fitting false teeth to cows to make them look like young and tender heifers, has a year in which to clear up new ideas.

Douglas Frederick Clay, 26, a cattle dealer, was sentenced to a year in jail today on each of five charges of obtaining money under false pretenses, the terms to run concurrently.

Prosecutor N. R. Fox-Andrews said Clay duped the ministry of food into buying the cows by pulling their mature teeth and substituting teeth from calves. Clay denied he did it with intent to defraud.

Wednesday night will see Kane against Kampsville and the home squad coached by John H. Clough will take on St. John's of Carrollton in the last game of the first round.

Semi-finals will be played Thursday night and the title contest will be held Friday night.

Kane, Hardin and Eldred squads are showing considerable improvement and posters assert any one of the three might wrestle the crown from the defending champions.

I Love My Doctor

By Evelyn Barkins

XXXII. SOCIOLOGISTS have long been attempting to fix the exact moment when the honeymoon ends and the basic marriage begins. Anything from the first quarrel to the first unkindness has been offered as precision points, but from personal experience, I would like to suggest the first baby. From the very start of its expected arrival, nature, with the finesse of a Forty-Second Street subway platform guard during rush hours, has an uncanny, unerring way of turning a nice, romantic couple into a pair of serviceable parents. Our own metamorphosis began soon after my illness. The few weeks immediately following my recovery were the last, blissfully quiet days. John and I were ever again to know. At first, of course, my mother was determined upon sending me off to convalesce in some isolated countryside. "But I want to stay home," I insisted loudly, realizing, as she muttered about my "pigeonheadness," that the true test of stubbornness can only be administered by an equally stubborn individual. "Look," I pleaded, trying to make it sound like a geometric theorem: "I promise to do nothing but eat, sleep, and rest. Freda has agreed to look after everything until I'm fully recovered. Won't that do it? That way, I won't have to leave John alone either." "Nonsense!" said my mother, making my proposition seem as ridiculous as if I had suggested sending Mae West to a Franciscan monastery. "People have to go away to recuperate. As for leaving John, lots of couples do that sort of thing. In fact the modern advisers all encourage husbands and wives to get away from each other for some part of the year, vacationing or otherwise." JOHN, who was sitting near by, smiled, and I started to laugh. That deceptively simple about separate isolations for young couples, self down with a family, and that's for keeps." "A family!" I repeated to John that night, making it sound as if she had advocated our joining a nudist colony. "I never even thought of that." "Neither did I," he confessed. And so we started to think. WE treated the idea like a proposed new hatrack for the guest closet. To have or not to have, how much, when, why, and how? With the filibustering art of an opposition party debate, we employed full parliamentary procedure in arriving at our foregone conclusion. John knew all the easy ones, and I was just his "feed man," like Jack Benny's Rochester: Did we want children? Of course! Sometime. Even I knew the line about the pater of little feet and the empty home. Was it expensive? How could it be? The hospital would give us a discount, and (this was John's) how much milk could a little baby drink? Well then, should we wait? For what? It still takes nine months (heh heh!), and (three cheers for the red, white, and blue on this one), if you have your children while you're young, you both grow up together, you are like brothers, friends, et cetera. In the final balloting, the motion was unanimously carried. "But school," I remembered, just before I fell asleep. "Oh, John, I can't have a baby while I'm still there!" "That's all right," John said promptly. "You're finishing your law course in three months, and it won't begin to show until much later on." My deeper thoughts came the next day, but even these were not profound enough to really disturb me. "Who wants to grow up with children?" I thought. Certainly, children prefer parents who keep their place. The general competitive spirit is bad enough for youngsters, and while the sister act between mother and daughter may flatter Mama no end, I bet Janie, if she could, would probably trade mother in for a more conventional model. "HIT THE SAWDUST TRAIL," shouted the Rev. Billy Sunday, evangelist extraordinary when the Twentieth Century was in its teens. And during his 35 years of preaching, more than 1,000,000 persons ran—shouting, weeping, moaning—down the sawdust trail to be converted. Sunday, once a big league baseball player, preached the "old-time," hell-fire-and-brimstone religion. The devil, he'd shout, has horns, hoofs and a tail. Sunday spent much time on the platform shadow-boxing with Satan. His revivals had the atmosphere of a circus. His sawdust trail was real—a wide, sawdusted aisle through the audience to his platform. Money donations toward his "good works" ran into tremendous sums. He died, almost broke, in 1935 at the age of 72.

New Record Set As 1,200 Women Greet Miss Dorothy Holland

By MARI KALER

A record-breaking crowd, unsurpassed in any previous year, thronged into the Fox-Ilinois theatre Tuesday morning for the opening session of the Journal Courier Food Pageant Cooking School.

By 8:30 a. m., a half hour after the doors opened, all the seats both on the main floor and in the balcony of the theatre were occupied, accounting for 1,100 persons. There were approximately 100 more women standing in the aisles and in the rear of the theatre.

Nearly 500 women had to be turned away, because of lack of space.

A crowd of about 200 was waiting in the outer lobby as the doors swung open at 8 a. m. As the women entered the theatre, they were given the recipe book which contains all the recipes to be used at the school during the four-day event and coupons which give them a chance at winning some of the valuable prizes offered.

Books, Coupons Given All

The women who couldn't be accommodated at the school also received the recipe book and the coupons, thereby enabling them to have a chance at the prizes even though they don't attend the school. Master of ceremonies for the Journal Courier, who is sponsoring the event in cooperation with the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Mr. Fay opened the session by introducing the instructor Miss Dorothy Holland, a member of the staff of the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Miss Holland presented her assistant, Miss Nancy Carter, also on the board's staff, and then explained briefly what the functions of the board are, saying that it is representative of the entire meat industry.

She made a few remarks regarding the proper ways to cook meat, stressing dry heat for tender cuts and moist heat for less tender cuts.

She explained that the tender cuts are from those parts of the animal which are exercised slightly and that the less tender cuts are from the parts which are exercised thoroughly.

Alternate layers of chipped beef and sliced potatoes went into the casserole which Miss Holland prepared next. This was topped with a mixture of mushroom soup and milk.

While making the party cakes, Miss Holland stressed following all recipes exactly and measuring accurately. She stated that much research had gone into perfecting the recipes and that they should be followed carefully.

An ideal way to use left-over meats, according to Miss Holland, is in chop suey, which she demonstrated next. Hawaiian toast, broiled ham slice and tomatoes tropical were the last items prepared before intermission.

Style Show Presented

A style show, featuring tailored and sporty clothes, was presented by Waddell's Ready-to-Wear. The show was directed by Mrs. Fae Gilchrist, who also served as commentator.

Modeling the fashions were Miss Sylvia Plouer, Miss Mildred Heath, Mrs. Ruth Pennell, Miss Betty Townsley, Mrs. Eloise Plouer and Mrs. R. G. Baker.

A colorful salad bowl was mixed after the intermission and the topping for the black bottom pie was made.

Next came the grand finale, the parade of foods, by which the audience was able to see the completed dishes in all their glory.

Foods On Parade

The parade featured the chop suey, topped with chopped almonds and served over rice and noodles; liver and ham loaf with peaches, centered with grapes; the chipped beef and scalloped potato casserole, served in the dish in which it was baked; the Hawaiian toast, topped with pineapple slices and strips of bacon; the party cakes, decorated with a Valentine's party; the spiced short ribs topped with prunes and apricots; the chef's salad with julienne strips of cheese and ham; the black bottom pie, topped with whipped cream and grated chocolate; and the rolled lamb, served with catsup-topped baked onions.

Foods to be prepared at the second day's session, Wednesday, will include beef and kidney pie, chocolate cake, meat loaf, blueberry pie, New England dinner, brunch muffins, sausage supper, baked bananas, porterhouse steak, french fried cauliflower, pork loin roast, cold meat platter and frost spice cake.

A cordial invitation is extended to all women of this area to attend the school.

Recreation was in charge of Mrs. Tunison, who is co-chairman with Mrs. Frazier.

Twenty-two members were present, with two guests, Mrs. Lucille Hart and Mrs. Ellis Winkling, with Miss Bette Spangenberg as associate member present.

Hog Price Ebb Brings Government Purchases

Washington, Jan. 17.—(P)—The Agriculture Department announced today that it will buy pork products in an effort to bolster sagging hog prices.

It said its purchases for the time being will be limited to bacon, smoked hams and smoked picnic shoulders.

Officials said hog prices this week are slightly below a level that would give producers a national average farm price of $14.90 for 100 pounds during January—a support average promised last year.

The support program is designed to assure farmers an average of 90 percent of parity through March, 1950. Parity is a legal standard for measuring farm prices, declared by statute to be equally fair to farmers and consumers.

In his recent budget report to Congress, President Truman estimated the government might have to buy $90,000,000 worth of pork during its fiscal year ending next June 30.

This is the first time the government has entered the pork market for price support purposes since 1944 when war expanded supplies out of market and export demands.

The department said it will buy the specified pork cuts because they store well and are adapted for use in school lunch programs and distribution in public institutions.

These are expected to be the principal outlets for the supplies to be bought by the government.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan forecast last year that the government would have to buy pork and remove it from consumer markets in order to carry out hog price

SOME THINGS AREN'T NEW!

Old Books Build Higher Interest In Bible Study

By Cecil Tendick

F. D. R. didn't invent "Fireside Chats" and many people enjoyed "Morning Walks" away back when President Truman's grandmother wore pigtail.

Rev. Ralph E. Jasper of Winchester can prove it.

His right hand holds two century old books bearing those titles, books with an exaggerated moral tone once very popular with Americans.

His left hand holds something altogether different. It is definitely the type of story that turned True Story magazine into a multi-million dollar proposition. The title, "Harriet's Mistake."

Like its modern sister, the story is filled with spicy, rather lurid, details, but points to a high moral at the end.

Succumbs To Temptation

A synopsis of "Harriet's Mistake" goes something like this: Harriet goes to visit her cousin in the city. The cousin lived above a saloon. On Saturday night, Harriet succumbed to temptation. She danced "in a light dress."

She caught a cold. Pneumonia developed. The doctors gave her up. She prayed and her prayers were answered.

Back on the farm she regained her health and beauty. Another summer rolled around. She went to the city to visit her cousin. Weakened again, and danced "in a light dress."

Another cold, pneumonia and doctors turning away, giving her up for lost. She prayed. But this time her prayers went unanswered. The last chapter tells of the grief of her devoted parents.

Old Books A Hobby

Rev. Jasper has collected more than 50 of these old books and uses them to build interest in one of his specialties, teaching a method of Bible reading. He's been holding these conferences for five years and recently concluded a four-session conference at the Franklin Methodist church. Monday night he opened a similar conference at the Concord Methodist church. He'll be there Wednesday and Thursday nights.

"My purpose is to teach a method of Bible reading," he explained. "Too many people say they don't get anything out of reading the Bible. So they just do not read."

"I try to show how the Bible came from the lives of inspired minds. It is not just a system of disciplining ourselves to live in the other world after death, but a source of strength for today."

Other Conferences Scheduled

Rev. Jasper came to Winchester in June, 1948. The adult director for the Jacksonville district, he'll teach his Bible reading course in Carrollton on Jan. 23-26 and on March 5-8 he'll be at Camp Point where several small churches of that area will gather for a joint Bible conference. His local board has given him permission to hold these conferences in other sections.

Rev. Jasper says, "My hobby is old books. I have a life of Christ printed in 1818. I have Bibles and hymnals over 100 years old. Also I have a good number of century-old pieces of literature printed for the Methodist Sunday school. The method of teaching has changed, but the story of the church, the Gospel of Christ is the same."

"I haven't spent a dime on this hobby, but interested friends have given me books from their libraries and their attics."

Taught Varied Subjects

Some of the old books show that early Sunday schools taught such subjects as better farming, history, geography and allied subjects.

Born in Independence, Mo., Rev. Jasper attended several colleges before graduating from the University of Kansas City in 1938. He studied at Garrett Biblical Institute in Chicago and did correspondence work with Southern Methodist university, Dallas, Texas.

"I have enjoyed our work in Winchester and the people have been very good to us. Some of the best people we have ever met live in Winchester and in the Jacksonville district."

Rev. and Mrs. Jasper are the parents of two children: Loreta, formerly MacMurray College student, who is now employed in the sales tax division, Springfield, and Bill, Winchester high sophomore.

Scott Voters Approve Sale Of Schoolhouses

Winchester.—A proposal authorizing the Scott county board of education to dispose of 32 rural schoolhouses was approved Tuesday when an unusually large number of residents went to the ten different polling places to cast a ballot for or against the proposition.

Returns indicated that ballots cast for or against each of the 32 different propositions. Complete but unofficial returns indicated that each of the propositions had been approved by the voters, with majorities ranging from 15 to 45 votes.

School Superintendent Folmer estimated that more than 1,250 residents went to the polls yesterday. This number was greatly in excess of those who voted last summer, when the same proposition was defeated. At that time only slightly more than 400 residents voted.

Returns indicated that ballots cast in Bluffs and Winchester were primarily responsible for approving the board's suggestion. Voting was practically even at Manchester and Glasgow, and the rural precincts opposed the sale of the schoolhouses.

Dietz Text For Nurses Now In Third Edition

By Carolyn Laughary

Lena Dixon Dietz, R.N., director of nurses at Passavant hospital for the past 10 years, is the author of "Professional Adjustments," a two-volume textbook for nurses, now in its third edition. It was the first book published concerning the special adjustments nurses should make with the world.

The F. A. Davis company is the publisher. Volume one deals with the problems in relationships that the beginning student encounters and stresses such qualities as good grooming, honesty, confidence, because of their effect on the patient.

The second volume, for seniors, takes up the organizations of nurses and the legal knowledge they need, and discusses the vocational fields open to them. The book is dedicated to the author's children, Charlotte Wray III, a freshman at Illinois College, and Helena Karl, who placed in the national art contest. As a result her picture was hung in the Carnegie Institute at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Years Of Experience

A graduate in nursing from the University of Iowa, Mrs. Dietz first taught in the public schools of northern Illinois. Later she became instructor of nurses for three years at the Hospital Latina-Americana, Puebla, Mexico, then went to Jamaica in the West Indies for a year. She has also held the position of superintendent of nurses at Longmont hospital, Longmont, Colo., and of science instructor at the Aultman hospital, Canton, where she worked for 14 years.

Many of her articles have been published in professional magazines, and her first book, "Professional Problems of Nurses," was published in 1936. Miss Faye Hart of the Jacksonville public library prepared the list of books for various tastes which appears in the chapter on recreation in the later book.

Active In Organizations

Mrs. Dietz was the first president of the League of Nursing Education downstate; she is chairman of nursing services for the Morgan county Red Cross and past president of District 9 of the Illinois State Nurses Association. The University of Iowa awarded her a certificate of accomplishment at its 100th anniversary in June, 1947.

During the war years she taught summer classes of Red Cross volunteers as well as home nursing classes. She is interested in the upgrading of nursing education and proposed the idea, later carried out through her work together with a committee, that intelligence tests be given to the nurses through Illinois College.
